

Laurentian Bank updates timing on strategic plan and provides information on certain charges impacting fourth quarter 2021 results

MONTREAL, Nov. 23, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Laurentian Bank of Canada (TSX: LB) (the "Bank") today announced that it expects to record certain charges in its fourth quarter and fiscal 2021 results in relation to its strategic review. The Bank also announced that it will hold a virtual Investor Day on December 10, 2021, to unveil its new strategic plan, under the leadership of its new President & CEO and management team. As a result of its strategic review, the Bank expects to record certain charges to its fiscal 2021 fourth quarter earnings, estimated to reduce reported earnings by $209 million pre-tax, or $163 million after tax, and adjusted earnings 1 by $19 million pre-tax, or $14 million after tax. Reported diluted earnings per share are expected to be impacted by approximately $3.73 and adjusted diluted earnings per share 2 by $0.33. The expected charges would also impact the Bank's Common Equity Tier 1 capital ratio 3 by approximately 25 basis points which is expected to remain above 10%. The expected charges are divided into four categories: Personal Banking Segment Impairment, Future of Work, Technology and Credit Provisions. Unless otherwise indicated, all amounts noted below are on a pre-tax basis and may not add due to rounding. Personal Banking Segment Impairment Annually, the Bank conducts a goodwill impairment test. As a result of this year's test, the Bank expects to record an impairment charge on the value of its Personal Banking segment. This expected impairment reflects the recent decline in assets and deposit volumes, which, combined with the Bank's limited digital capabilities to support the ongoing changing needs of customers during the pandemic, made it challenging to retain existing customers and acquire net new ones. In addition, the Bank has also previously commented on the fact that it currently has two digital platforms, resulting in an inconsistent customer experience. In order to simplify the structure of the Bank and improve the customer experience the Bank will consolidate its two digital platforms into one. As a result, the Bank expects to record an impairment charge of approximately $93 million as follows: 1) goodwill for an amount of $35 million, 2) software and intangible assets for $53 million and, 3) premises and equipment for $6 million. Future of Work The pandemic has shifted the way many people work. As a result, over the past few months, the Bank has been working to refine its future of work plans, considering both customer and employee expectations. The Bank has decided to pursue and will be adopting a hybrid model, where working from home will be the first approach for all tasks that can be performed remotely. This is in line with the Bank's new strategic plan to be a more customer and people-focused Bank and is a key differentiator to attracting new talent. Given the shift to work-from-home, the Bank expects to record a charge of approximately $49 million related to a 50 percent planned reduction in leased corporate office premises in Toronto, Burlington and Montreal. This will not impact the Bank's branch footprint. In pursuing a performance-oriented culture while simplifying the organizational structure, the Bank expects to record severance charges of approximately $9 million related to 64 positions across all levels, within different entities, and are split between roles in Ontario (60%) and Quebec (40%). Technology In 2016, the Bank began a multi-year program to replace its core-banking system over two phases. While Phase 1 of the program has been completed and deployed, the Bank reassessed, as part of its strategic review, the second phase of the project, which mostly included accounts and products from the retail branch network. Given the rapid evolution and advancement of technology, the Bank is looking to leverage new capabilities through partnerships to deliver products and services in a faster, more efficient way to market, while improving the overall customer experience. As a result, the Bank has made the decision to cease Phase 2 of the program and expects to record a charge of approximately $38 million. Credit Provisions As part of the overall strategic review, the Bank reassessed the investment loan product design and adjusted its credit standards resulting in an acceleration of remediation of a portion of the investment loan portfolio. As a result, allowances and provisions for credit losses are expected to increase by approximately $19 million in the fourth quarter of 2021. This anticipated charge will not be designated as an adjusting item to calculate the Bank's adjusted (non-GAAP) results and ratios. Ongoing cost reductions The expected impact on expenses on a pre-tax basis, stemming from these decisions is estimated to generate approximately $4 million of cost reductions for the fourth quarter of 2021 and $20 million of ongoing cost reductions starting in 2022. These are mainly as a result of lower amortization charges and lower rent expenses. "These difficult but necessary changes make us more confident than ever about our future," said Rania Llewellyn, President & Chief Executive Officer. "As an organization we have never been more unified, with a renewed management team and employees that are focused on our customers. We continue to maintain a strong capital and liquidity position that support our strategic investments in the Bank's future and reposition us for sustainable, long-term profitable growth."
